

Hi Parsons Alumni,

I want you to know, on behalf of the Parsons Alumni Board, we are thrilled that a historical documentary is being produced about Parsons College. Fair Field Productions*, headed by award-winning filmmaker Dick DeAngelis, has already started filming and really needs our support to make it happen. Any amount would help. Thanks.

FINALLY: A FILM ABOUT “PARSONS”

We are thrilled to announce that Fair Field Productions has started production of their fifth film, “Parsons”, which delves into the beginning and the end, the starts and stops, the innovations and foreclosures, the ups and downs of the ninety-eight-year history of Parsons College. The film will give a deeper insight into the influence that this small college had on the town of Fairfield and the many lives that were changed there. They have already begun interviewing alumni and need our help. Link to their other award-winning films.

HISTORICAL RESOURCE:

Fair Field Productions is looking for any old family films you might have that include Parsons-related activities; on campus or off! They will borrow them, make a digital copy and give you back your original plus a digital version for you to pass on to your family or friends. Just call or email them and they will help you.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT:

Fair Field Productions has begun raising funds and now needs your help! Thanks to several grants, they are halfway to their goal and need to raise $26,000 more to complete the film. Please fill out the form below and send in your check. Your encouragement, support and generosity are greatly appreciated.
